A new perspective on intimate high-rise living in Brentwood

Tailor is a statement of design, quality, sustainability, and livability. The homes at Tailor offer more than Brentwood has ever seen, built for life by Marcon.

The lobby awes with forty-foot ceilings to accommodate “Wind Veil”, a stunning public art piece by Catherine Widgery. You and your guests will appreciate the sophisticated atmosphere of a lobby reminiscent of an upscale hotel.

36 YEARS 12,000 HOMES.

Even when the building is done, we know its life is just beginning. It has to stand the test of time. It will shape neighbourhoods. It will change lives in infinite ways. It will be a home. So we build it right. Everytime. We're building something special. We're building for the long run, with you in mind. We're building homes that enhance lives. We're building for life.

An aerial photograph of a cityscape, likely Vancouver, showing a mix of older and newer buildings. A prominent new high-rise building is highlighted in white, standing out from the surrounding urban environment. The building has a modern, tiered design with a flat roof. The surrounding area includes various commercial buildings, parking lots, and green spaces. The text "Tailored for finer living." is overlaid on the image in a large, white, serif font.

Tailored for finer living.

Rising above Brentwood, these homes are a design statement from afar and up close. Modern architecture is paired with a rare level of intimacy and connection, with only eight homes on each floor. While comfort and style flow throughout, living here also feels smart.
